SINABORO

Sinaboro is a Korean Traditional Percussion Group based on SamulNori, which is a type of music performed by farmers to celebrate and wish for good harvests. SamulNori is performed with four musical instruments: Kkwaenggwari, Janggu, Buk, and Jing. Each instrument represents the thunder, rain, cloud, and wind respectively. Founded in 1998, Sinaboro has been holding annual concerts in the Michigan League to promote Korean Traditional Culture.

FEMALE GAYO

Female Gayo is KSA's official all-female dance crew led by Steph Hur and Tina Choung. This is their second year dancing in the group, and their first time leading. Our group has a long tradition of performing in the annual KSA Culture Show and has showcased many K-pop hits that are representative of contemporary Korean culture. K-pop has been making its prominent debut on the international entertainment scene for a few years now with many performing groups becoming popular throughout Asia, and even greatly throughout Europe and the States. Female Gayo aims to further the "hallyu" movement, or the spread of Korean culture throughout the world, through the fun and catchy songs and dances that permeate K-pop music. We want to showcase this part of our culture, opening the audience's eyes to a more contemporary form of Korean art and culture. We will be dancing to our own mix of songs that were made popular during 2011. All of our members have put a lot of time and effort in order to give a sexy, exciting, and most of all fun performance. We hope you enjoy it!

FAN DANCE

Dating back from the Joseon Dynasty, the Korean Fan Dance is a traditional form of dance, performed by groups of female dancers. The dancers open and close the eccentric colored fans to a flowing rhythm and traditional music. The colorful costumes present a glimpse of those once worn by dancers of the royal court. UMICH KSA's Korean Fan Dance is very excited to present this beautiful art in the form of a traditional dance in order to represent Korea's unique culture.

KDM

KDM, K-pop dance cover group in University of Michigan, is back to offer new, popular dances of 2011 to the audience. KDM consists of a group of girls who enjoy dancing and wish to share their passion with others. KDM was created in 2009 with nine freshmen girls. Hoping to introduce Korean culture through music, KDM participated in many events such as Inspired Charity Show and Kopitonez Charity Concert. Over the past years, we performed popular songs by Girls' Generation, After School and Shinee. This year, five original members of KDM, Seona Choi, Jane Jeon, Sarah Hwang, Grace Hwang, and So Young Kim, as well as new members, Jessica Kim, Soojung Seo, Sunny Ahn, and Doori park, are back to make an impact in Korean culture to everyone. Practicing diligently since the beginning of the year, KDM has prepared a performance filled with excitement and new color. We hope you enjoy our performance and take our love for Korean culture with you. Thank you.

DAN KIM

AND THE BLUEBERRY INCIDENT

Dan Kim and the Blueberry Incident is a jazz/pop/folk band based in Ann Arbor. Dan Kim is featured as the lead singer, and he also plays guitar and piano. Backing him up is Ian Waters on the violin, David Rhine on the guitar, Chris Livesay on the bass and cello, and Matt O'Donnell on the drums. By blending genres and drawing from a wide range of musical influences, the band is able to write and perform music that appeals to audiences of all ages. In addition, the unique instrumentation allows for a compelling sound not commonly heard in today's music. You can check them out at www.dankimband.com

Dan Kim (lead vocals, guitar, piano) is a singer-songwriter based out of Ann Arbor. While working fulltime and preparing to go to medical school this fall, he devotes whatever time that he has to his passion for music.

Ian Waters (Violin) is a student at University of Michigan studying Cellular Molecular Biology.

Chris Livesay (Bass) is a student at the School of Music at the University of Michigan studying Music Education.

Matthew Brook'O Donnell (Drums) is a research fellow here at UM.

David (guitar/mandolin) is a recent University of Michigan graduate on the path to medical school. He has a decent stack of instruments and usually tries to keep at least one within arm's reach at all hours. David enjoys long walks on the beach, romantic candle-lit dinners, reading, and cliches.

LYDIA PAEK

Hailing from Los Angeles, the multi-talented and dynamic Lydia Paek is best known as one of the founding members of the season 3 winners of America's Best Dance Crew, Quest Crew, and has been dancing since she was 15 years old. Recently, Lydia has been focusing on her music career and is currently working with the famed record label and talent agency, YG Entertainment. She co-wrote and co-produced "Don't Cry" with Teddy for 2NE1 member, Park Bom.

Her mother studied to be an opera singer and her father was a dancer, who also played instruments. At age 3, she started to play the piano. But as a child, she sang soft and low, afraid of what people would think. Like most Asian parents, they were strict on Lydia. They made sure she studied hard in school and got good grades. A career in music wasn't exactly what her parents had planned for her. It wasn't until high school, she discovered her true love for music. Lydia hopes to inspire everyone she meets and to have the ability to share to the world her love for music.
